“ Christine and I attended the same private all girls school and Christine was 6 years younger than me. I remember watching her on the playground because she was the cutest kindergartener & wishing she were my little sister because I had 4 brothers! I ended up marrying Christine's first cousin Tony in 1969 and so happy she became my cousin too! When Christine visited us in Vancouver, Tony suggested that she go to Club Med for a nice break and to meet someone. Well, we know she met the most special person in her life - Jim! Together they shared a love and devotion that is rare to find. We miss Christine but know she is no longer struggling. Jim has been the most caring person we have ever met in our lives and thank him for making Christine's life the best ever. He raises the bar to such a height that Tony & I will probably never get to.

“ We will always cherish time spent with Christine. My not-yet husband and I met Christine in 1988 when four of us 'Yanks' from Georgia were sent to work in Australia for one year. Our task was to study and enhance an insurance software package soon to be sold in North America. We became fast friends with Christine. She was bright, witty, and a whip-smart programmer analyst. I'll never forget the weekend she introduced us to 'Yum Cha' (Chinese brunch) which became a favorite social ritual. Oh, the steamed food, hot and fresh, rolled on carts out of the kitchen straight to the table! Happily we sat eating our delicious food as Christine poured hot tea. We will never forget her.

“ Our condolences to you Jim. Christine will be missed by all of us . I am sure she will be watching over you always . Her gentle wave hello will never be forgotten . It was so nice to have known her all these years seeing her at Old Warsaw and to the recent times meeting for lunch at China Buffet. May she rest in eternal peace now
