“ My Aunt Lill,
You are the source for so many of my happy memories. I can remember going on the bus with my mother to your house so many times and you would teach her how to bake and cook things. You were always my family's source for how to do things the proper way. I never heard anyone say, "Even Aunt Lill doesn't know," because you always did. The only comfort I have is knowing that heaven will be a better place now. It is your turn to look down on us and share your memories with those you haven't been with for awhile. You will always be in my heart and I will love you always. Hopefully when my time comes, I will head the right way and be with you again.

All my love forever,
Lance
